

The International Leprosy Association, the nongovernmental body recognized as an affiliate of the World Health Organization with respect to leprosy, takes satisfaction in the appointment of one of its members, Dr. R. Chaussinand, of the Institut Pasteur in Paris, as the Consultant for Leprosy and, ex officio, secretary of the Expert Committee on Leprosy.

The other members of the Expert Committee, and those who are to join with it in one or another official capacity in the meeting to be held early in November, are with a single exception members of the Association as listed in the fourth issue of THE JOURNAL last year. The same is to be said of the larger Expert Panel, from which the members of the Committee were selected.

—H. W. WADE