

IJL Editorial Content, 1933-1978

These editorial pages have carried items of varied interest and quality throughout the history of the JOURNAL. There is a thread of thought that reflects the developing concepts of leprosy. Another presents historical summaries or data and yet another summarizes various operating or "housekeeping" details related to the JOURNAL and the International Leprosy Association.

Issued under varying titles, these efforts are not easily found in the Cumulative Index of this JOURNAL, and are unknown to new and often easily forgotten by veteran subscribers. A chronological listing of these essays is therefore presented to facilitate access to them and to provide an overview of the total endeavor for any review that might arise relating to the format and function of this JOURNAL.
